

IUCN Red List

The International Union for the Conservation of Nature (IUCN) has produced a list of species, the Red List, which includes their conservation status (how close to extinction they are). For each category find as many species in the zoo with that status as you can.

What does the term endangered mean?

Why are we losing animal and plant species?

Which animals are hunted for their fur?

Why are animals hunted for their fur?

Why are lemurs so endangered in the wild?

Why are humans destroying habitats?

How can you help save endangered species?

How do zoos help endangered species?